In the original version of this article, there is a mistake about the result of DPCL++ (Isik et al., 2016) in Section 5.6 (Fig. 7). As reported in Isik et al. (2016), the SDR improvement was 10.3 dB, rather than 9.4 dB. For further information, the best performance in Isik et al. (2016) was 10.8 dB with the help of a more complicated architecture.
