Journal of Zhejiang University-SCIENCE B

Cite this as: Wei-dong Zhang, Da-ren Liu, Cheng-cheng Feng, Chuan-biao Zhou, Chen-ni Zhan, Ri-sheng Que, Li Chen, 2014. Management of differentiated thyroid carcinoma with bone metastasis: a case report and review of the Chinese literature. Journal of Zhejiang University-SCIENCE B (Biomedicine & Biotechnology), 15(12):1081-1087. [doi:10.1631/jzus.B1400124]

Management of differentiated thyroid carcinoma with bone metastasis: a case report and review of the Chinese literature

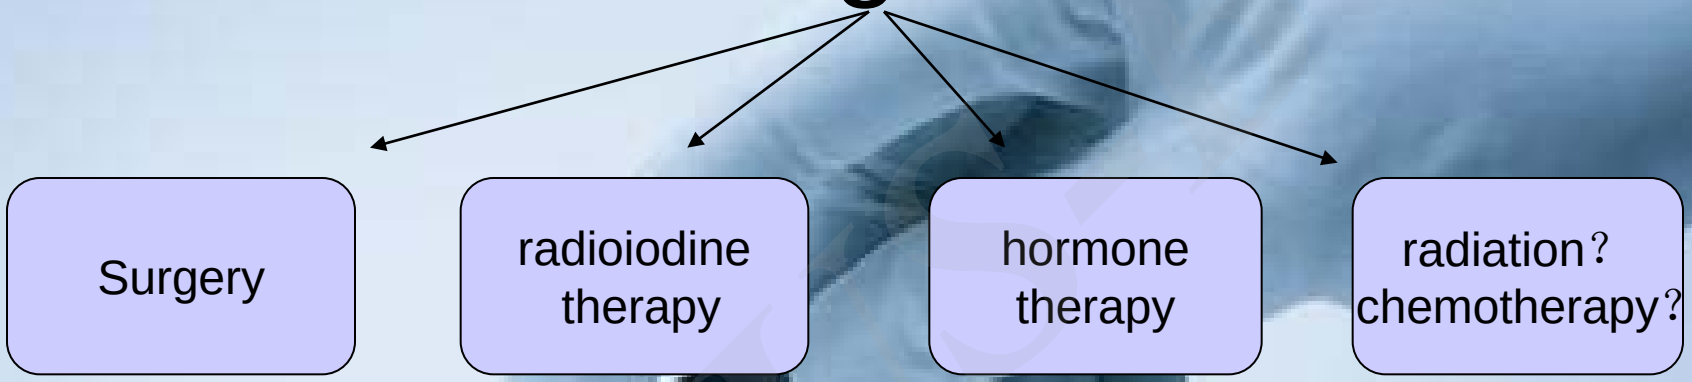

Key words: Thyroid carcinoma, Bone metastasis, Management

Bone metastases from thyroid carcinoma may cause severe complications and the management needs multidisciplinary cooperation. However, the treatment is still controversial and the outcome is usually unsatisfactory.

Management

Surgery
radioiodine therapy hormone therapy radiation？ chemotherapy？